WHOLESALE KILLING

Jealousy at a Dance Causes a Bloody Tragedy.

THE SCENE DOWN IN TEXAS.

Winchesters Used With Deadly Results. Three Are Dead and the Fourth Fatally Wounded, Two Seriously and About Half a Dozen Others Have Received Minor Injuries.

COLUMBIA, Tex., Jan. 2.—Full accounts of a wholesale killing at Cedar, about eight miles from here, are just in. E. N. Williams was dancing on the floor and aroused the animosity of Lemon Gayle, who demanded that Williams surrender his place on the floor. Williams at first refused, but Gayle became boisterous and Williams started from the room when Gayle, his brother, London Gayle, and Bob Ealy began firing at Williams and others.

London Gale shot through the window and killed a boy named Eliebi Waddy, when another boy, Isaac Scott, remarked, "London Gayle has killed my Waddy," whereupon London turned and saying, "What is that to you?" shot the boy through and through, killing him instantly. Then a general fusillade followed from guns and pistols.

A woman was shot through the breast and is now dead; Lemon Gayle is shot through the body and will die; a girl is shot in the face near the eye, another square in the middle of the head, the ball glancing and lodging next to the skin back of the head; one boy is shot through the arm and another through the right hand, and others have received various slighter wounds.

After Lemon Gayle was shot it is said his brother London also ran in and stood over his prostrate body. Winchester in hand, and pumped cold lead into the panic-stricken dancers who were unable to get out of the house to avoid his awful vengeance.

Three are dead and a fourth fatally wounded, two seriously and about half a dozen have minor injuries.

London Gayle is reported safely in jail, and it is reported that Ealy has been captured.

NOT A SUCCESSFUL TRIP.

An American Has a Very Uncomfortable Time in South Africa.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—August Lalou, whose home is at San Francisco, arrived on the French liner La Bourgogne, from a prospecting trip in the Zambesi river in Mashonaland and the Matabele country.

Lalou says his journey proved unsuccessful and that he has had an uncomfortable time in South Africa. He found on arrival there that he had to obtain permission of the British South Africa company before prospecting, and that if successful, he would have had to pay over large amounts of money as royalties.

The natives, he said, are very antagonistic and fighting continually. They fear no power and acknowledge no authority beyond the South Africa company. They make constant raids and are a continual menace to white people within their reach.

TO EVEN UP LOW WAGES.

Carnegie's Workmen Will Ask For a Reduction of Rent.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 2.—The mill men at the Carnegie works, Beaver Falls, have inaugurated a movement which will probably be joined by all the wage-earners of that city and vicinity, to secure a general reduction of rents. The men who have recently been reduced in wages insist that it is impossible to continue paying high rents on low wages, and that the cut in rents must correspond with the cut in their earnings.

On the same lines an effort will be made to secure something in the shape of concessions in prices from the leading mercantile establishments, including the butchers, bakers, grocers, etc.

A similar movement has been started among the business men and workmen at McKeesport, and during the week a demand will be made on all landlords for reduced rents.

Death of a Millionaire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—Captain J. C. Ainsworth, an 1849 pioneer of California and Oregon and three times a millionaire, died at his home in Oakland yesterday afternoon. Captain Ainsworth established the line of steamers in Columbia and Willamette rivers that eventually merged into the Oregon Railway and Steam Navigation company, and was one of the heaviest stockholders at the time that Villard acquired the property. At his death he was largely interested in banking in Oakland and Portland. He was 71 years old.

Still After the Thieves.

FRESNO, Cal., Jan. 2.—Sheriff Scott and posse, who are after Chris Evans and Ed Morrell, are still unheard from. The fact that some word is not received from them is said to be due to the order Scott gave the posse to keep their work secret from the press, claiming that the bandits would make use of the published plans of the officers in evading the officers. From this it seems that nothing is likely to be heard from them till they do battle and make a capture or give up the chase.

Mutiny at an End.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—A dispatch to The Standard from Berlin says that 12 more of the mutineers in the Cameroons have been captured, and that the mutiny is now at an end. It is alleged that the harshness of Lieutenant Haring, who commanded the force, was the cause of the outbreak.

THERE MAY BE NO WAR.

The Difference Between Honduras and Nicaragua May Be Patched Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—General F. M. Aguirre of Honduras was among the arrivals here on Saturday's steamer from Central America. General Aguirre goes from here to Washington, thence to New Orleans. There, besides directing his large business interests on the north coast of Honduras, he will remain as the accredited consul of Honduras, Costa Rica and Guatemala.

The general says while the war between Honduras and Nicaragua is imminent, diplomats from different Central American governments are now making a patchup between the two republics. He says, however, that just before his leaving the congress of Honduras had passed an act authorizing President Vasquez to equip troops and declare war against Nicaragua in his discretion.

The cause of this act as explained by General Aguirre, is that the Nicaraguan government has permitted the revolutionary party of Honduras to equip itself in Nicaragua and march into Honduras. This has occurred five or six times during the past two years.

The Honduras government has spent $5,000,000 and has lost the lives of at least 1,000 men in quelling these revolutionists. Besides this loss, the money and life interests of the republic have been injured, because the frequent revolutions have prevented the development of its resources.

President Vasquez has declared that this condition of affairs must cease, and if necessary to effect the desired end he will march his troops to the very capital of Nicaragua.

The president has sent diplomatic circulars to the heads of Central American governments announcing these facts and further stating that he will equip an army and march into Nicaragua the first moment he hears of any revolutionists marching into his territory.

SUNDAY SUICIDES.

Two Well Known Pittsburg Men Take Their Own Lives.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 2.—Two well known men of this section committed suicide Sunday. They were H. H. Grafton of Sewickley, commercial traveler for the T. H. Nevin White Lead company, and W. W. Donohue, an oil man of Mercer.

Grafton, who was a single man, aged 35 years, shot himself in the washroom of a parlor car on the Pittsburg and Erie railroad while coming to this city. Before suiciding he wrote his will, bequeathing everything to T. H. Nevin but $50, which he requested should be sent to Louis Danne of Chicago. He stated in the will that his physician had told him that he had Bright's disease, and he concluded to end his misery.

Donohue had been drinking hard for several weeks and Saturday night was taken from the Central hotel to Mercy hospital for treatment. Early Sunday morning he arose, and during the temporary absence of the attendant, took a pen-knife and cut his throat. He died in less than an hour. Donohue was 45 years of age and also unmarried.

USED A GUN AS A LAST RESORT.

A Divorced Woman Defends Herself From Her Former Husband.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—For two years Daniel Healy has been a divorced man. Sunday he called on his former wife to wish her a happy New Year. She ordered him from her house and he refused to go. Then Mrs. Healy took the lids off the stove and tried to smoke him out. He stood it better than she, however, and Mrs. Healy was compelled to leave.

She sent Thomas Scully to eject Healy and Scully was knocked endways with a poker. Healy then left the house, but returned again. When he demanded admittance Mrs. Healy fired at him with a revolver. The bullet struck Healy in the groin, inflicting a probably fatal wound. The woman was arrested.

Another Scheme of Stealing.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 2.—Nothing having been received of the missing teller William Austin Bennett of the Globe National bank, it has been found that the novel schemes to get money was to destroy original checks sent in from depositors, make out new ones for smaller amounts and draw a check in his own favor for the balance. He would credit the depositor in the pass book for the correct amount and would give him credit for a less amount in the bank books. President Simms thinks his stealings will not exceed $25,000.

Dynamite Mystery Solved.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—The mystery of the dynamite cases sent to the emperor and chancellor has been solved. The plot has been traced to Norman Wahlgren, a discharged agent of the Berlin police. Wahlgren went to Paris about the middle of November and instigated two French anarchists, Robin and Bordes, to send the boxes. His plan was to reveal the plot at the proper moment, attribute all to his accomplices, and as a reward for his supposed keenness secure his old employment here. He will not be reinstated.

Death of a Prominent St. Louisian.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—H. Clay Sexton, one of the most prominent citizens of St. Louis, died at his home, 8677 Cook avenue, Sunday night. His death was the result of a complication of causes. About three weeks ago he fell off a street car and sustained severe injury. An attack of the grippe followed and left him in such a weakened state that a slight stroke of apoplexy proved fatal. Mr. Sexton came to this city in 1844 from Virginia. He was for 27 years chief of the fire department and was city collector for four years.

JACKSON PARK AGAIN.

World's Fair Company Surrenders the Site to the Park Commissioners.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—All title to Jackson park as a world's fair site has been surrendered to the South park commissioners. President Higinbotham of the world's fair, General Manager Graham and Secretary Emonds met the South park board, and after giving a check for $200,000, yielded their authority to control the ground on which the exposition stood. The meeting was an amicable one, though the commissioners and Mr. Higinbotham declared a poor bargain had been made by each side. Nevertheless President Higinbotham carried away with him the exposition company's bond for $100,000, which was made out three years ago, when the world's fair people promised to remove all the buildings by May 1, 1895.

In accordance with the terms of this settlement the city must be prompt if it wishes to acquire the manufactures building and remove it to the lake front. It is stipulated in the proposed ordinance, adopted unanimously at the meeting, that the city must, on or before May 1, 1894, purchase the building. In the event that it fails to do so by that time the structure becomes the property of the South park board. In the event of the building being purchased by the city by that time it is given until May 1, 1895, to remove it.

HAS FIVE WIVES.

William Grim Arrested by a Brooklyn Detective at Fort Wayne.

FORT WAYNE, Jan. 2.—Detective Joseph Batnarello of Brooklyn arrested William H. Grim at the city Young Men's Christian association here. Grim is wanted in Brooklyn on an indictment by the grand jury for bigamy. It is said that he has five wives living. No. 1 in Hartford, Conn.; No. 2 in Dubuque, Ia.; No. 3 in Quincy, Ill.; No. 4 in Fulton county, Pa., and No. 5 in Brooklyn.

Grim's crime was discovered by his fifth wife, formerly Mrs. Walker, by the finding of a letter in his pocket from No. 3 in Quincy, formerly a Miss Whittaker of that place. He has been followed for a month by the detective, who departed with his prisoner late yesterday evening on the way back to Brooklyn. Grim's way of ingratiating himself into favor and securing his victims is to get into church and Young Men Christian association work, where speaks and leads in prayer with the facility of a clergyman. He has already become a favorite in the Young Men's Christian association at this place, and was about to be admitted into the First Baptist church.

ONLY A SCARE.

A Prisoner Removed From Jail For Fear of Being Lynched.

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2.—Last Wednesday night Robert Cogswell of Graffenburg, this county, walked into the church at that place and deliberately fired a shot into the shoulder of Mrs. Robert Darlington, and in the excitement which ensued made his escape, went to Frankfort and there surrendering to the sheriff, was jailed.

Authorities from here went to Frankfort and brought the prisoner here. Sunday night they received a telephone message that a mob was forming at Graffenburg for the purpose of coming here and lynching Cogswell.

He was taken from the jail to the country, and kept away 48 hours, but beyond a few strangers who came in on horseback, no indications of a mob appeared, and Cogswell was returned to the jail.

The prisoner is either really crazy or is playing the insanity dodge to perfection. Mrs. Darlington is not seriously injured.

Peculiar Confidence Game.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 2.—W. R. Smith, a Populist leader and orator of some prominence in the interior and who is locally known as "Duster Bill," is in jail here charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes. His latest victim and the one that caused his arrest, is a Mr. Byrne of Andover, Ky. His scheme was to personate a lost, wandering son, who felt repentant and wanted to return home. He answered all the advertisements he could find of this nature and conducted quite a thriving business in collecting advances from anxious parents.

A Good Start For the New Year.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 2.—The advent of the new year will be accompanied by a decided boom in industrial circles in this section. By announcements made by the various mill owners on the South Side, nearly every mill will be in operation by the middle of this week. Most of the plants will be run double turn, something which they have not done since the beginning of the present depression in business circles last spring. The resumption on the South Side alone, it is estimated, will give employment to 8,000 idle men.

New York Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—The Republicans and Democrats held their caucuses last night and nominated candidates for legislative officers. The Democrats nominated William Sulzer for speaker of the assembly and Jacob A. Cantor for president pro tem of the senate. The Republicans nominated George Malby for speaker and Senator Saxton for president pro tem.

Locomotive Boiler Explodes.

HIGGINSON, Ark., Jan. 2.—The boiler of the locomotive pulling the through freight for St. Louis exploded near here. The train consisted of 85 cars, 14 of which were loaded with cattle. About 20 cars were wrecked and a great number of cattle killed. Head brakeman Ross was instantly killed, the fireman fatally and the engineer seriously injured.

WILL RING AROUND THE WORLD.

The New Liberty Bell Will Be Taken on a Glorious Journey.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The travels of the famous Chicago liberty bell, as it is known to distinguish it from its more famous Philadelphia prototype, will be far more extensive than have hitherto been mentioned. Not only will it leave the Grand Central palace next Wednesday to go to Nashville, New Orleans, Mexico and the midwinter fair at San Francisco, but Mr. J. D. Prince, under whose management its extended tour will be made, announces that the bell will be taken to the continent of Europe for a stay of at least a year.

First it will go to England to be rung on the battlefield of Runnymede on June 15, 1894, in a celebration by the English speaking world of the anniversary of the signing of the magna charta. After that it will be taken to France to participate in anniversaries connected with political freedom, and to Germany for the same purpose, its next destination being St. Petersburg, where it will be rung on the anniversary of the emancipation of the serfs.

Next it will go to Italy and thence to Constantinople, Jerusalem, Cairo and thence through Australia, India, China and Japan, back to the Pacific coast, making virtually a circuit of the world.

Mr. G. S. Knapp, custodian of the liberty bell committee of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, accompanied by his wife and son, George M. Knapp, assistant custodian, will go along with the noteworthy relic of the Chicago exposition.

TRAIN ROBBERS CAUGHT.

The Gang Which Killed an Express Messenger at Mound Valley in Custody.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—Hans D. Hydrick and Claude Shepherd, two desperadoes, were lodged in the holdover at the Four Courts by Special Agent F. D. Dodge of the Wells-Fargo Express company. The pair are two of the three men that held up a Frisco train at Mound Valley, Kan., on Sept. 3, shot and killed the messenger, Charles A. Chapman of Joplin, and went through the train, robbing passengers of their cash and valuable. They were brought here from Mississippi, where a five years' burglary sentence was waived by Governor Stone.

These are the men who were trailed through their escape from the Pine Bluff (Ark.) jail Aug. 15. In a few days they will be taken to Oswego, Kan., for preliminary hearing on charges of robbery and murder. Agent Dodge says that one of the two men is the one who shot the messenger. Both will be tried, however, one as an accessory. The arrest of Hedrick and Shepherd "rounds up" the three Mound Valley train robbers. William Chadburn, the third, was arrested at Dexter, Kan., on Sept. 18, for highway robbery, and identified as one of the gang. He pleaded guilty to robbery and was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary, which he is now serving.

REVENGE AND MONEY.

A Divorced Woman Accuses Her Former Husband of Murder.

TOLEDO, Jan. 2.—An arrest was made in Peru, Ind., yesterday which may clear up the most mysterious murder ever committed in this city. On Dec. 20, 1884, Mrs. Gottlieb Stahl, who kept a saloon at the corner of Monroe and Thirtieth streets, was murdered and robbed of $1,100. The crime was committed between the hours of 2 and 4 in the afternoon. A reward of $2,000 was offered for the conviction of the murderer, and although many suspects were arrested, despite strenuous efforts to the contrary, all were acquitted.

Sunday the chief of police received a message from Mrs. George Kohler, Peru, Ind., asking if the reward was still offered for the murderer of Mrs. Stahl, and that she had "proof and the man." Upon her information her divorced husband was arrested, and both were brought to Toledo yesterday evening. Kohler was a huckster in this city at the time of the murder and lived here until recently. His reputation is neither good nor bad. Mrs. Kohler claims that revenge and a prospective reward were her motives in making the information. Kohler protests his innocence, which he claims will be established at his preliminary hearing.

RAN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

Three People Horribly Mangled at a Railroad Crossing.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—Particulars have been received here of a terrible accident by which three persons were instantly killed by a New York express train at Patuxent, on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad, 18 miles from this city. The victims were an aged couple, Thomas P. Varley and his wife of Patuxent, and their 10-year-old grandson, a child of C. B. Varley Meyers, manager of the Halethorpe Improvement company of this city. The little boy was visiting his grandparents for the day, and all were in a carriage on their way to the house of a friend, several miles distant.

The unfortunate people evidently did not hear the approach of the train, as they were right in front of the locomotive. The engineer tried to stop the train, but could not in time and the carriage was struck with terrific violence and smashed into kindling wood. The remains of Mrs. Varley were thrown between the two tracks and were so cut to pieces that they had to be gathered up in a wheelbarrow. Mr. Varley's head was crushed and his hair was saturated with blood and brains. The boy's skull was fractured.

Latest From Dahomey.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The latest news from Dahomey is that General Dodds has refused Behanzin's request for permission to reside at Whydah, and has given him 20 days in which to surrender.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

Loss Will Reach Nearly a Million Dollars.

GLOBE THEATER DESTROYED.

The Magnificent Building Entirely Destroyed, Together With the Entire Scenery of the Hanlons' "Superba" Company—Several Other Buildings Badly Damaged—No Lives Were Lost.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—The second day of the new year began in this city with a destructive and at one time very dangerous blaze in the Globe theater on Washington street, owned by John Stetson, and at present occupied by the Hanlons' Superba company, which is playing an engagement here.

The elegant playhouse is completely gutted and the property of the Hanlons ruined. The large 6-story building just erected by the Harvard college trustees caught fire several times and was badly damaged.

During the progress of the fire several severe explosions occurred, which proved to be the powder and cartridges owned by the Hanlon company, who are playing there this week. It is stated that every particle of the wardrobe of the company has been lost.

The first alarm of the fire was given at 1:15 a. m., and was quickly followed by a second and third alarm. When Chief Webber saw how the fire was gaining he had a fourth alarm turned in. It is thought the fire started in the coat-room of the theater by some one throwing a lighted cigarette on the floor and that it smoldered until it broke out into a blaze.

It is estimated that the loss on the theater will be in the neighborhood of $500,000, and that of the Hanlon Superba company will be in the vicinity of $40,000, as they have not been able to save any of the valuable scenery which they carry with them. It is impossible at this time to estimate what the loss to the other buildings will amount to.

The Globe cafe is a total loss, nothing but the walls remaining.

During the whole conflagration not an accident occurred.

The total loss will be nearly $1,000,000. All the property is well insured.

This is the second time the Globe theater has been visited by fire, the first time being on Decoration day, 1873. This was the original Selwyn's theater, which was opened Oct. 29, 1867. This house was built by Dexter Follett and the late Arthur Cheney, being named after its first manager, John H. Selwyn.

Ill-fate also seems to follow the Hanlon company for it is about a year ago, while performing at the Euclid Avenue Opera House in Cleveland, that they lost all in the destruction of that theater by fire.

ONE GIRL SHOOT ANOTHER.

Some Claim That It Was an Accident, Others a Murder.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 2.—News has just reached here of a tragedy at Hadensville, Ky., 15 miles from Clarksville, on the Louisville and Nashville road, one girl becoming the slayer of another girl friend. Three young ladies, aged 18 or 20, were examining Christmas presents at the residence of J. F. Shelton, when Miss Shelton picked up a revolver and aiming it at Miss Allen, daughter of Esquire Allen, one of her guests, said: "Watch out, I will shoot you!"

Instantly a loud report rang out and Miss Shelton beheld her companion of girlhood days fall dead at her feet, with a bullet in her temple. There are several reports as to the cause of the tragedy. Reliable parties state that the two girls were rivals in love and that Miss Shelton committed a murder. Others, equally as reliable, are of the opinion that the shooting was accidental, Miss Shelton not knowing the weapon was loaded.

Watch Company Falls.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2.—Philip H. Bruck was last night appointed receiver for the Columbus Watch company, bonds $5,000. The company was organized about 10 years ago with a capital stock of $275,000. The outstanding obligations are about $250,000. The last invoice showed $450,000 assets. The works have been closed several weeks. When running full, 400 hands are employed. Efforts were being made to effect a reorganization but failed. Failure to realize on outstanding accounts and the fact that two of the directors were indorsers of the company's paper to the extent of $65,000, led to the application for a receiver.

Ohio Minister Dies in Chicago.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2.—Rev. David B. Cheney, D.D., one of the best known ministers of the Baptist church in America, died yesterday in Chicago, aged 73 years, and the remains were shipped to this city for burial. He was one of the oldest members of the board of the American Baptist missionary union, and prominent in nearly all the leading Baptist educational institutions. He served pastorates in Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Chicago, and in 1849 was the only Protestant minister who stood his post during the cholera scourge in this city.

Passenger and Freight Collide.

PORTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 2.—A passenger train on the Lehigh Valley collided with a freight train on the Pennsylvania road yesterday afternoon near Brick Mountain station, on the Broad mountain, seriously injuring three trainmen on the passenger train and slightly injuring several of the passengers. The engineer and fireman of the Lehigh Valley train were badly hurt, as was also Conductor Walter Butler.

A WOMAN went to the Associated Charities at Newport and put up a pitiful plea that she was almost on the verge of starvation. She was given an order for some groceries, and here is the way she had it filled: can of peaches, 30 cents; pound of Java coffee, 32 cents; pound of creamery butter, 35 cents, and 3 cents worth of stick candy. Such people ought to have guardians appointed to take care of them.

THE attorneys of Miss Pollard have not been very successful in their recent quest for "evidence" at Cincinnati, if reports are true, and it really begins to appear that the alleged offspring of the alleged nation. At all events the "Queen City" spot. Meantime, Colonel Breckinridge announces himself as a candidate for re-election in the Ashland district, and has been received by his constituents with an enthusiasm that leaves little doubt as to the result of the contest. He will likely win the race hands down.

Tragedian Whiteside.

Mr. Walker Whiteside, the tragedian, will appear at the opera house Monday and Tuesday of next week in Shakespeare's greatest comedy "The Merchant of Venice" and his greatest tragedy, "Richard III." Mr. Whiteside is endowed with experience and graceful bearing. He will play "Othello" with intensity and feeling. His conception of "Shylock" will be modeled on the same plane of thought which has made his "Richard III" already famous. The study of a life time he has devoted to the history and methods of the people in the times when these great characters existed; after that, the traditional methods employed by other famous tragedians; then the selecting the wheat from the chaff, and weeding out the stereotyped traditional stage mechanism, and the infusion of youth and intelligence, together with the knowledge of the tastes and wishes of his fellow students of this age, will serve to make his performances not only remarkable from an artistic standpoint but from the originality and boldness of a student who is supplemented by that greatest of gifts—genius.

LIMESTONE.

The Christmas german at Philip Hise's on Wednesday night was attended by a large crowd.
The ladies present were: Mrs. William Thackston, the Mrs. William, Tom and George Williams the Misses Myers, Hughs and Green and several others, names not learned. Dancing was indulged in to a late hour and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

GERMANTOWN.

W. C. Johnson and family were in town on Sunday.

All of our seekers after knowledge have returned to school.

The Sunday schools of the different churches have received their annual treat.

Miss Bertha Harris took charge of the primary department of our school on Tuesday.

Graham Humlong has so far recovered as to be able to return to college at Lexington to-day, (Tuesday).

Several other young men were badly shot in the throat and stomach, not by powder, but by a substance not so sudden, but one that kills more people than all other things combined.

Elder McClellan surprised the members of the Christian Church on Sunday by declining to serve them another year, as they thought they had him engaged. They are now without a pastor.

Old Santa Claus made a second visit to the residence of Rev. T. B. Cook on last Saturday night, this time leaving a handsome cloak with gloves and handkerchiefs to match for his estimable wife.

We had an unusual number of accidents during Xmas holiday. Ethel, a colored boy, after pointing an old pistol at several boys, made a target of his right hand and that time the old thing let loose and sent a ball through his hand. R. D.
Powers chasing a turpentine ball tried to knock a horse rack out of his way. He has two black eyes and a nasal protuberance with no skin on it. Little Johnnie McClean got impatient because the powder didn't go off, stooped down to enliven the coal with his breath. Charlie Jett filled an empty shell with powder and paper and stood over it to see which way the paper went.
Neither of these young men have eyelashes nor eyebrows, but badly burned faces. Henry Fegan loaded the boxen out of a wheel and undertook to hold it to the ground. He has badly burned face and limbs.

County Court.

Wm. Henry Lehman, white minor, aged sixteen, was apprenticed to George Lingelfelser to learn farming.

Sheriff J. C. Jefferson executed his official bond, with the following as sureties:
John H. Clark, J. D. Peed, D. B. Mitchell,
Alex Duke, Thomas Lally, T. J. Prather,
H. D. Watson, T. A. Keith, John W.
Alexander and Charles B. Pearce. The bond is one of the best ever given by a Sheriff of Mason County.

C. W. Williams qualified as administrator of Wm. D. Art, with J. D. Peed as surety. Appraisers: T. B. Robinson, Jr.,
W. A. Powell and Eli Williams.

C. D. Shepard doing business under the name of the Purity Pharmacy was granted license to sell liquors by prescription.

An inventory and appraisal of the personal estate of Henry Davis alias H.
D. Green and a sale bill of said estate were filed.

Death of Mrs. Alethia Ball.

Mrs. Alethia Ball died Monday at 2 p.
m. at her home near Sardis, after a lingering illness. She was fifty-nine years of age.

Deceased was married twice, her first husband being the late Alfred Chanselor

The Sun Life Pays Claims Promptly.

I wish to acknowledge the payment in full of the policy which my daughter carried in the Sun Life. She was insured only one day and your Superintendent,
Mr. A. D. E. Cloger, was prompt in paying me in full all that was due, as the Sun does just what they promise. I recommend the Sun to all as a friend of the people. Yours respectfully,
HARRISON WILSON.

Wanted One of Them Dolls.

Mr. J. T. Kackley received the following yesterday:
Have you any of those 19 cents dolls left?
Those that were out in the window just before
Xmas, and you had up a card with this on it,
"These dolls are so mad because we are selling them so cheap, that some of them are standing on their heads." I would like one with blue eyes and golden hair. Now if you have one left please send me one this afternoon by "bus."

Mr. Morton Loses a Toe.
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—It has just become known here that ex-Vice President Morton had an operation on his left foot performed in Paris three weeks ago.
While in England Mr. Morton was troubled with pain in his left foot. The doctors said it was gout. Mr. Morton went to Paris, and there the doctors said the trouble was not gout, but that it would be advisable to amputate one of his toes, which was done. The latest news from Mr. Morton was that he was doing well.

A Shot That Burned.
HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2.—Henry Owsley of this county was shot in the side by some one at Gracey, a station near this city, receiving a very peculiar if not fatal wound, as the ball passed round his body over 12 inches, burning the flesh as it with fire. Who did the shooting could not be ascertained in the crowd.

Pierced by a Red-hot Iron.
MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 2.—John Alman, an employe of the Indiana iron works,
met with a frightful accident Saturday.
A large iron rod pierced one of his cheeks, badly injuring his jaw. The iron was red-hot, making the injury all the worse.

THE NEW TARIFF.

The Wilson Bill One of the Greatest Measures Since the War.

Some of Its Advantages—What the Future Tax Will be—Maysvillians in Washington.

Correspondence of the BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 29, 1893.

After several weeks of hearings and preparation the Committee on Ways and Means of the House has formulated a tariff bill, which I think is one of the greatest Democratic measures produced by any Democratic committee since the war. The hearings taken down by the stenographers make a volume of nearly 1,100 pages, and consist mostly of speeches made by the beneficiaries of the tariff asking the committee not to do it. The bill makes a general cut all along the line amounting to a reduction of the duties under the McKinley bill of about one-half the present rate. Manufacturers' raw material, including coal and wool, is made free.

The argument of Mr. Wilson, Chairman of the committee, is that if protection is a good thing why not protect everybody in everything by means of a tariff and therefore tax everybody rich. He contends that wherever anybody in America receives any benefit from the tariff somebody else in America must lose the same amount and that therefore protection is a robbery.

Mr. Reed, who prepared the minority report, contends that if protection is robbery then a tariff for revenue only is robbery to the extent which it imposes. I think both are right.

Perhaps the only mistake Mr. Wilson makes is that he does not take off all the tariff; but he does the best he can under present conditions and may do better hereafter.

The tariff bill will be taken up in the House on the first day after the meeting of Congress in January, will be discussed for not more than three weeks and passed. It is not thought that it will be amended in any important particular. The Senate will then take it up immediately and amend it by way of some increases.

The protectionists formerly ridiculed a tariff for revenue only because they said it was a mild form of protection, and they now complain of the Wilson bill because it is not sufficient for revenue.

The bill will not raise enough revenue to pay the expenses of the government by the sum of $72,000,000. To make up the difference it is proposed to increase the tax on whisky to $1 a gallon, take the bounty off sugar, raise the rates upon cigarettes and tobacco and put the tax on playing cards, legacies, on the revenues of corporations and perhaps a general income tax.

A strong effort will be made to put a tax upon sugar. That article used to yield $40,000,000, and since the abolition of the duty the sugar raisers have been receiving bounties to the amount of $10,000,000 a year. We all know what a drop there was in the price of sugar when the tariff was taken off. If we are to pay a bounty to the producers of sugar why not pay a bounty to the producers of grain; and yet a bounty to the manufacturers would be vastly better than imposing a tariff tax, because if a bounty were paid it could be paid directly to wages.

I think that if the Wilson bill be passed in its present shape it will result in such a revival of business as to forever doom protection in this country and result in free trade. Whenever any article of production is taxed it restricts its production and raises the price.

I think I said in my last letter that it would be found that the repeal of the Sherman act would not do anything to relieve the business depression. The silver act has been repealed and the business depression still remains, and must remain, I think, until the price of real estate goes down and business gets into a natural groove. Times will then become good.

Governor Alger says that the passage of the Wilson bill will result in a loss to the manufacturers and the working people of five thousand millions of dollars a year. If the manufacturers and the working people lose that amount certainly somebody will gain it, and I cannot see that such a gain would be a very great misfortune to the whole people.

Mr. Carnegie was in Washington last week and had an interview with the President. It is reported that he gave the President to understand that if the tariff be reduced he would relinquish his government contracts or reduce wages. He has made $35,000,000 out of protection which he favored on the plea that it was for the benefit of the workingman, but when it is proposed to take any of his enormous profits he is not so much in favor of the workingman.

When this country adopts free trade, to which it is rapidly tending, we will have no article of revenue except liquors and tobacco, and the question will then be what shall we tax in order to raise Government, State and municipal revenues. There is an article we can tax which will yield all the revenues needed, and much more, and the taxing of which will not raise its price to the user, but on the contrary will decrease its price. That article is land. If we tax a blanket, or anything else made by the hand of man, the effect is necessarily to raise the price, but if we tax the land the effect will be to lower the price, because man did not make it and can not increase or diminish the supply of it to any extent whatever. It was here before he came and will be here after he is gone, and while he is here he must use it since he cannot exist either in water or in the air.

If by taxing a foreign blanket worth $4 $1, we could make it sell for $3, or if by taxing it $4 we would be able to get the blanket for nothing we would all be in favor of that kind of protection, but unfortunately the tax upon any article of human production must be added to the price and often much more than the tax which is added. In the case of land just the opposite occurs. Every dollar put upon land as a tax lowers its value to that extent. It is population which gives value to land, and why should not population get the advantages of the increased price which it solely creates?

Mr. Gompers, President of the Federation of Labor, and also Bradstreet estimate that there are about three million idle people in the United States to-day. Millions of people are starving right in the midst of plenty. The greatest number of needy people are found in the cities where also is found the most wealth. Mr. Henry George has pretty clearly proven that progress and poverty go together under our present system. Our wealth as a people is vastly increasing, yet property is increasing.

It can not be that it is either over-production or under-production. It is said that the Mississippi Valley alone is fertile enough to support the entire globe. Statistics show that the wealth of the United States is increasing at the rate of $750,000,000 a year. Who gets it? Wealth is divided into three heads—land, labor and capital.

Labor evidently is not getting it because wages and opportunities are decreasing. Capital is not getting it because the rates of interest are gradually decreasing, but the increase in various forms goes to land, principally in the great centers of population. Wherever population increases the value of land increases with it, and that increase is greatest in the center of such population. Some pieces of ground in New York and Chicago are worth many millions of dollars per acre.

There are now in the House of Representatives between seventy and eighty members who believe that all revenues ought to be raised by a tax upon land values, irrespective of improvement, and that probably will be the next question to take fire.

The value of all the land in the United States is about seventy thousand millions of dollars, which would be a thousand dollars for every man, woman and child. It may be objected that the land-holders of the United States ought not to be taxed to support the government entirely and enable the foreigner to flood us with cheap goods, but if the land-holders be compelled to pay all the taxes and the foreigner furnishes us most of our food and clothing at a mere nominal price certainly America would then be a Utopia.

We have adopted the kangaroo ballot of Australia, and it may be that the Colony of New Zealand will furnish us a good precedent for a land tax. New Zealand has adopted a single tax upon land values, and it has resulted in a great rush to that colony from Australia and other places of people who have taken up the land. New Zealand owns nearly all the railroads of the colony, and derives $1,500,000 dollars as revenue from them. In addition to that she has adopted women suffrage, but that has nothing to with the case. And yet I often wondered why it was that if suffrage be a good thing that we disfranchise the best half of our people. Colorado has been the first State in the Union to give full and complete suffrage to women, and it may prove to be a very important entering wedge. Who can say that a land tax and woman suffrage would not cure many of our ills?

The number of Maysville boys in Washington has recently been added to by the appointment of John R. Proctor as Civil Service Commissioner. He has been elected President of the Commission. His salary is $3,500 per year, but the office will not be as profitable as the place in Kentucky which he relinquished.

Crit Pearce has been appointed by Mr. Carlisle as disbursing clerk in the Coast and Geodetic Survey. His friends are glad of his good luck. J. D. Kehoe, as you are doubtless aware, is in charge of the Treasury Printing Office, which employs over one hundred people. He is delightfully situated on the top floor of the building.

Will January has left the city for Chicago, and several of his friends mourn because he is not.

SHOT HIS YOUNG WIFE.
The Insane Act of a Noted College Professor.

MEDIA, Pa., Jan. 2.—Swinton C. Shortlidge, principal of the famous Media academy for boys, while out promenading Sunday with his wife, a bride of only a month, shot and instantly killed her.

For three weeks Professor Shortlidge has been confined to his home with the grip. His wife was a faithful, untiring nurse, but he did not seem to improve rapidly. On Saturday he ventured out for a walk, his wife accompanying him, but he did not go any further than the spacious porches of the academy.

Sunday morning he took another walk with his wife on his arm in the direction of East Media, passing people without his usual signs of recognition. A few minutes later, while passing through some woodland on Jefferson street, those who were in that neighborhood were startled by hearing six shots, and looking saw what seemed to be a scuffle on the street.

Among those who heard and saw this was Chief of Police McKniff, who ran to the spot where he found Mrs. Shortlidge dead and the frenzied man clinging to her and calling for her to come back to him. A six-shooting 32-caliber revolver was lying empty by the side of the dying woman. When the by-standers approached Professor Shortlidge attempted to drive them off and threw himself on the body of his wife, now rapidly being chilled in death.

The chief of police put him under arrest, and he was taken to the lockup. Here it was found that he was not fully dressed, being still in his night shirt. He was so weak that a carriage had to be procured in order to convey him to the few squares necessary to go in order to reach the jail.

Professor Shortlidge is a member of an old Quaker family. He graduated from Harvard university with honors and was the leading member of his class in physical exercises. After graduating he went into the newspaper business and subsequently started a boarding school for boys at Kennett square. He removed his school to Media in 1874, and has since conducted one of the most successful institutions in the country, and one which has gained for itself an enviable reputation as a preparatory school for young men.

Mr. Shortlidge was a man of culture and refinement, and was one of the representative citizens of the town. He took particular delight in athletics and was to be seen almost daily engaged in outdoor sports with his pupils. He has four children by his first wife, who died about four years ago.

The victim, whose maiden name was Marie Dixon Jones, was about 28 years old and of prepossessing appearance. Her mother is Mrs. Marie Dixon Jones of Brooklyn, who came into prominence in that city a few years ago by her suit against the Brooklyn Eagle for alleged publications about a hospital conducted by her. The suit was recently decided against her.

Her brother, Rev. Henry Dixon Jones, was pastor of Christ Protestant Episcopal church in this city up to Dec. 1, when he resigned by request. The news of her daughter's death is a great shock to the mother, and it is feared she will lose her reason.

The unfortunate man does not yet realize what he has done, and is continually asking for his wife. The general opinion here is that he is insane. A few years ago his school was in a flourishing condition, but unlucky investments in real estate caused him to lose his money, and his affairs were placed in the hands of a receiver.

The school has since been conducted as a stock concern, with Mr. Shortlidge as principal, and there was every prospect that he would regain his lost ground.

The coroner will hold an inquest.

Good News to the Miners.
MONONGAHELA, Pa., Jan. 2.—The opening of the new year will see most of the mines in the lower pools paying 2 1/2 cents for digging. In the fourth pool the recognized rate in most cases is 2 cents, although some of the mines are paying less. In the Elizabeth neighborhood, Walton company closed down pending a settlement of the rate question, but on the whole the outlook for the diggers is vastly better than seemed possible two months ago. The men are showing wonderful unanimity of sentiment on the necessity for organization now, while all the conditions are favorable, and the organizers are accomplishing wonders.

Train Runs Into a Snowbank.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 2.—Three men may die as the result of a wreck on the Northern Pacific, between Boulder and Elkhorn, Mon. The train ran into a deep snowbank, the engine and tender being jack-knifed. Three men were terribly crushed and mangled. Engineer Dennis J. Delay had both legs amputated below the knee; Fireman John Regan was crushed about the left thigh and spine, and H. J. Hayes, brakeman, lost his left leg below the knees. They are in the hospital, and it is feared the three may die.

Shot While Writing a Letter.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—While James Colley, 25 years old, a colored employe of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company at Cecil station on the Panhandle railroad, was seated in his room writing a letter, a pistol ball was fired through the window, the ball lodging in his neck just above the collar bone, inflicting a dangerous wound. Colley was brought to the West Penn hospital. There is no clew to his assailant. He may recover.

Shot by Highwaymen.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—Max Zoerner, aged 28 years, was found dying on the Fort Wayne railroad bridge Sunday night, with a bullet hole in his head. He was conscious and claimed that he had been shot by a highwayman and robbed of $200. The bridge watchman says no one was near Zoerner when the shot was fired and he thinks it was an attempt at suicide. Zoerner is still living, but will probably die.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 2.—While working in a sewer on Main street, the diggers struck quicksand. The earth caved in immediately, burying Michael Sibley and David Henry beneath the 25 feet of sand.

COLLECTING STAMPS.
A Philatelist Who Is Working to Obtain For Himself a Cork Leg.

Fred Ulrich, a young lad of Sycamore, Ill., is collecting 1,000,000 canceled postage stamps. Some time ago Fred, while returning home one evening, was attacked by a fierce mastiff. The animal came near killing the boy, but it was finally driven off by some citizens who came up. The dog had bitten the boy so badly that one leg had to be amputated, and an arm was rendered useless. The Ulrichs are not rich, so the boy adopted a plan by which he is to secure for himself a cork leg. The leg has been promised him if he succeeds in collecting 1,000,000 canceled postage stamps.

The other day young Ulrich received by express a bag weighing 100 pounds, filled with canceled postage stamps and bits of paper torn from the envelopes. They had been sent by Miss Alice Smith, a clerk in the employ of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co. Miss Smith had seen an advertisement of the boy's purpose in a newspaper, and she wrote him to inquire as to the truth in the case. The reply she received was satisfactory, and she began collecting stamps. The large bag received the other day by the boy came from her. Miss Smith gets all the envelopes from the heavy mail received by the firm. Yesterday afternoon she was tearing stamps off of envelopes, of which she had a large number. While doing this work she explained how she had become interested in the boy's case and had resolved to help him.

"It's not so much work, and it will benefit him," she said. "It didn't take very long to collect those that I sent him, and I may send some more."—Chicago Record.

HOW HE WAS CURED.
A Highly Dramatic Episode That Led a Drunkard to Swear Off.

Not long ago a prominent Main street merchant was a confirmed drunkard. He loved liquor so madly that he was a misery to himself and every one about him, especially to his young and handsome wife. One night recently he decided to commit suicide. He told his wife about it, and she was so miserable that she said if he was to end his existence she wanted to die too. The man proceeded to a drugstore in the western part of the city, near his residence, and purchased 20 cents' worth of chloral. He returned home and divided the poison equally, and while they were in the notion each swallowed the drug.

The young wife walked to the bed like a brave woman or coward, as you please, and laid herself down to die. It was different with the husband. As soon as the poison had been taken he began to regret the step. In a few minutes he became frantic and rushed off to the drug store where he had procured the chloral and told the druggist the situation. He was relieved, with some trouble, of the poison, but they had a hard time in saving the wife. She finally recovered, however, and they get along happily together now, as the experience caused the man to stop drinking. This is a true story. Only three persons in Louisville know the details, and all were sworn to secrecy the night it all happened.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Will Pullman Follow Suit?
All the trains on the District railway will soon be provided with electric reading lamps, to be worked upon the "penny-in-the-slot" principle. Preparations are so far advanced that the wiring of the carriages is nearly completed. About 2,500 lamps will be required. They are very ingeniously constructed. A penny dropped into the box will set a small clock in motion for half an hour, during which time the current will be switched on, and the lamp will throw its concentrated rays direct upon the book or newspaper of the passenger who pays for it and nobody else. Should any mischievous person tamper with the apparatus an electric warning will be sounded in the guard's van. Each lamp will be of 20 candle power, and there will be four in each compartment. The current is derived from a battery, which will supply four lamps. No date can be assigned for the commencement of this special system of illumination, but it is probable that it will be inaugurated some time this month.—London Telegraph.

A Ninety-nine Years' Sentence.
Frank Moore, a notorious burglar, was last month sentenced in St. Louis to 99 years' imprisonment in the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City. He is otherwise known as Bart McGuire and has given much trouble to the police in all the large cities of the west. His present sentence, which is unprecedented in St. Louis, was bestowed under the habitual criminal law, an old act which had been allowed to grow rusty upon the statute books and had been almost forgotten. It provides for a sentence, upon a second conviction, of not less than 10 years nor more than 99. Moore is 46 years old and says he was born in England.—St. Louis Correspondent.

Convict Escapes.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 2.—Joseph Rice, a convict sent up from St. Louis for four years, scaled the great penitentiary walls sometime between 5 and 6 o'clock and forsook his old associates without a pang of regret. The authorities are searching for him, but with little prospect of success.

Instantly Killed by a Train.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 2.—Arthur Warren, aged 30 years and married, was walking on the Ohio and Mississippi track to his work at the brickyard at Selkita, when he was struck by an express train and instantly killed. The body was removed to his late home and the coroner notified.

A CAR'S WILD PLUNGE.
A Hand Car Ran Away Down a Steep Mountain, and Two Men Were Killed.

A thrilling ride down the mountain on a runaway hand car, a broken axle, and seven men were flung from the track at a curve down a ravine 80 feet deep. Two were killed outright, and the other five sustained serious injuries.

Early in the morning Frank Eck, a track foreman on the Lehigh Valley railroad, and six laborers set out from Beaver Meadow for Hazle Creek on a hand car. The road down the mountain has a pitch of 50 feet to the mile and is skirted by deep ravines. There are numerous small bridges that span torrent eaten abysses, and sharp curves are plentiful.

Four stout men seized the handles that work the machinery, and the car started down the road at a keen pace. The air was frosty, and the rails were slippery. The momentum that the brawny arms at the pumps gave the car, added to the incline, made the human freighted vehicle fairly spin. When half way over the journey, the brake block snapped asunder. There was now no way to check the flying car's speed. On it rushed, and around curves it sped. The men were alarmed and endeavored to slacken the speed, but they could not accomplish much. They tried to stop the wheels by holding the handles of the pump machine, but that failed.

Suddenly they dashed around a short curve where a high precipice yawns below. They were in sight of the Black Creek station, and they thought the operator might help them.

At that moment an axle, overburdened by the terrific run, broke down, and the car and the seven riders shot over the wall. Down they went 30 feet and landed on the rocky bed of a creek.

Men from the Black Creek station rushed to where the wrecked car and the seven men lay. Six of the workmen were bleeding and unconscious from the shock.

Andrew Conitz died while being removed to his home.

Michael Mortsky, whose body was badly mangled and fearfully bruised, expired soon after reaching his home.

Foreman Eck was cut on the head and the body, while Thomas Laurens suffered a broken arm and other serious hurts. The other three, who are Hungarian laborers, were cut and battered, but all will recover.—Hazleton (Pa.) Dispatch.

TOLD HIM HOW TO FREE HER.

Remarkable Plot to Liberate a Prisoner Revealed in Court.

A middle aged man calling himself Henry Bresling went to Jefferson Market court and told Justice Koch that his sister-in-law, Miss Emma de Fontane, had been arrested and sent up for two months. He asserted that she was a good woman and that a mistake had been made. When asked for the date of the arrest, he produced the following letter:

MY DEAR FRIEND—I am sorry to tell you that I have been arrested and was sentenced to two months or $200 bail. I was arrested with other women. The rest got six months. I now remind you that you often told me you would help me. Get some one to go bail for me. You know my bail is only "straw bail," and you could get any one to go on the bond. If you go to Judge Koch and tell him you are my uncle, and that I am a hard working, decent woman, and give him a good game of talk, you will have no trouble. One of the women who got six months with me is out. Her friend went to the alderman of the ward, and he fixed it. Come with the discharge yourself, and on the spot I will give you the price of a suit of clothes.

When the justice had read the letter, he looked at the man and said indignantly, "If you are in this courtroom in 10 seconds, you will go to the island yourself." The fellow made quick time for the door.—New York Press.

Appealed to the Queen.

An incident has just occurred at Windsor castle. An aged and widowed Scotch woman named Mary Clarke, a resident of Dumfries, feeling herself aggrieved in consequence of having been evicted from her home, determined to lay her case before the queen. Accompanied by her daughter, a girl 15 years of age, she left the town and walked first to the White Lodge, Richmond, and then to Windsor castle, where she arrived in a penniless condition after a six weeks' tramp from the north. Her case was investigated by Acting Inspector Kelsey of the royal household police, and her immediate necessities having been cared for by some charitable persons at the castle, the poor woman and her companion left Windsor on their return to Scotland.—Paris Herald.

Extraordinary Relationship.

Thompson Chandler, a Lyons Farms (N. J.) farmer, is the proud father of two "boys," the oldest being 60 years of age and the youngest 8. His eldest son has a son 40 years old, who in turn is the father of a boy 16 years old. The latter is twice the age of his granduncle. While Farmer Chandler's 8-year-old son is going to school at Lyons Farms his 60-year-old boy is a prosperous business man of Vineland, N. J., and the latter's 40-year-old son is a bank director. Farmer Chandler has been a careful liver and can do as big a day's work as he could 50 years ago.—New York Herald.

A Miraculous Escape.

Miss Marie Delacy, the 24-year-old daughter of Peter Delacy, and her cousin had a narrow escape from death or serious injury Tuesday afternoon in front of the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York.

The carriage they occupied was caught between two cable cars, the force of contact snapping off the rear spring of the vehicle. Hundreds of persons who witnessed the accident expected to see the carriage broken into pieces between the two cars, but both ladies were helped out faint with fear and shock, but uninjured.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
